

MRS. STRODE CROSSES DIVIDE

Was One of Winchester's Most Beloved Citizens and Was Widely Related in This County

Mrs. Clayton Strode died at the Clark County Hospital in Winchester at an early hour Sunday morning following an operation of about a week ago. Mrs. Strode was a sister of W. W. Eubank, Sr., and Mrs. Emma E. Beall, of this city, and is widely known and related throughout Montgomery county. Mrs. Strode was 54 years of age and had not been enjoying good health for several months, however, her condition was not considered serious and the fatal result of the operation was entirely unexpected. She was a recognized leader in the First Baptist church at Winchester and her happiest moments were those spent in the performance of the work of her Savior. To know this Godly woman was to love her—yes, to love her for what she really was; for her real worth. She was kind, gentle, sacrificing and loving, and her happiest hours were those spent in trying to lead some soul to know the only life worth living—the Christian life. To her death had no sting, she lived so that when the final summons came she was ready with the prayer: "Not my will but Thine be done." To the sorrowing husband, the heart-broken children and the devoted sisters and brothers, we hope will find comfort in the knowledge that she is not dead except in body. She is only asleep—yes, asleep in Jesus, awaiting that glorious resurrection morn when all who live the life as did this good woman will be joined together in a world so different from this—a world where sorrow and sadness are unknown. We wish it were within our power to write one sentence that would lend comfort to those nearest and dearest, but we know how vain it is to attempt to gild a grief with words or try to lessen a heartache with any expression of sympathy. We only know that all who live must die, but with the Good-bye here it is only the dawn over there.

A devoted husband and five loving children—Mrs. Clay Sutherland, Mrs. Cecil Haggard, Miss Ruth Strode, Nelson and Homer Strode, are left to mourn the departure of this noble woman, in addition to three sisters—Mrs. W. D. Judy, Mrs. Emma E. Beall and Miss Effie Eubank and two brothers—W. W. Eubank and P. C. Eubank.

"Oh, You Women!"

By Morrie Ryskind

"A woman's place is in the home,"
So some folk say. But should you roam
From California down to main,
From coast to coast—and back again
You'll find the reason for this pome:

Which is, in brief, to slay the brom-
Ide, ancient, found in musty tome,
And held by folk of little brain:
"A woman's place . . ."

Go, boneheads, ye of marble dome,
To Sunny Spain to Frozen Nome.
But here your chatter is in vain;
For shop and office*, shine or rain,
Hold woman. Why, our land's become
A woman's place!

SHOOTING SCRAPE HERE MONDAY

Brothers-in-law Clash on Crowded
Streets in This City Courtyard—
One Shot Three Times

A shooting affray took place on the crowded streets here Monday morning shortly before noon. Henry White was shot three times by Len-nick Willoughby. The trouble, it is said, came up over a horse trade some weeks ago. Willoughby is about 34 years of age and lives near Jeffersonville. White is about 30 years old and lives in the northern part of the county. The two men are brothers-in-law. White is said to have threatened to kill Willoughby if he came to town Courtyard and sent him word to that effect. They met on Maysville street and Willoughby claims to have shot in self-defense, as he thought White was in the act of drawing a pistol when he fired. White was shot three times, once in the face, the leg and the abdomen. The injured man was given medical attention and it is thought that his wounds will not prove fatal. Willoughby is in the county jail and the case will likely be called at the present term of court.

VALUABLE FARM GOES TO MRS. J. S. BOGIE

The Mrs. Margaret Chenault farm of 1861-2 acres on the Camargo pike was sold privately today to Mrs. J. S. Bogie, Sr., one of the heirs, at $326.50 per acre. This is considered one of the best farms in the county and has been in the possession of the Chenault family for several generations.

FRANK FOGG DIES

Frank Fogg, son of Er. Fogg, died at his home in Covington Monday night. He was about 31 years of age and was born and raised in this community. He was a nephew of Messrs. Thomas, John and Charles Fogg, of this county. His many friends here will learn with much sorrow of his untimely death.

WILL MORROW WITHDRAW?

Edwin P. Morrow said he didn't have anything to do with the prosecution of the Grant County tobacco growers who had pooled their crops in order to get a better price. So positive was Morrow's denial of the charge made by Congressman Campbell Cantrill that Mr. Cantrill asked for a copy of the records at Washington. To this inquiry the U. S. Attorney at Washington, after consulting the records, makes public the fact that Morrow did act as charged by Congressman Cantrill. In a debate at Irvine with Cantrill Judge Belh-rum, of Somerset, said that if Cantrill could show that Morrow had been interested in this case at all or had protested against the pardons for the tobacco growers that Morrow would withdraw as a candidate for Governor. It is now up to Morrow to withdraw and make Belh-rum's pledge good. Morrow will not withdraw, but bad as well. He is mistaken too many times to make a normal race; then there may be other statements he would make to be refuted.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

We take this method of notifying the public that the report of the firm of R. E. Punch & Co.'s arrest for profiteering is absolutely untrue. There has never been an official of the government in our house on inspection in all the years of our doing business, which are many. This report has been spread abroad in order to ruin our business, but we mark and sell all goods just as close as possible, according to what we pay for them at the factory. In fact we are making less per cent. now than we did in normal times. We have complied strictly with all government rules, as near as possible in war tax, 10-hour day for the ladies, and fair profit. We realize the high cost of living and try to sell our merchandise at prices every one can reach.

FELLOWSHIP BANQUET

The parlors and reception rooms of the Baptist church were the scene of a brilliant assemblage Friday night, when the members and press representatives were present to welcome the new minister, Rev. R. C. Goldsmith and his charming wife, and to attend the Fellowship Banquet. Fall flowers in the autumn shades were used in greatest profusion in the decoration of the rooms, baskets of the lovely blooms being placed in the windows and on the mantel pieces. The guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. R. Q. Drake and Mrs. Tom Moore, and later were presented to the receiving line, which was composed of Rev. and Mrs. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tyler, Dr. Eberhardt, Dr. Powell, Dr. Wallingford, J. W. Hedden, Jr., John Blount, Cecil Greene and others. During the fellowship reception beautiful organ selections were rendered by Mrs. Drake. From the beautifully appointed tables a most bountiful supper was served and was greatly enjoyed by all so fortunate to be present.

This was the second welcome given to Rev. R. C. Goldsmith and wife, of the Baptist church, the first being a gathering of the various religious bodies when addresses of welcome with fraternal expressions by the following pastors were delivered: Rev. Clyde Darsie, representing the community; Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, representing the churches, and Rev. J. L. Clark, representing the pastors. It was good to be there when brethren of like faith spoke in endearing sentences. The scripture reading and prayer by Rev. B. W. Trimble found lodgment in sympathizing hearts and the songs carried the assemblage back to the good old days.

The fellowship meeting was certainly an enjoyable occasion. Dr. Eberhardt, of Georgetown; Dr. Powell, of Louisville, and Dr. Wallingford, of Paris, delivered the real inspiring addresses which served to open the hearts and actuate giving hands. The 75,000,000 campaign was fully explained, duty was foretold and the folks were inspired to greater things. Rev. Goldsmith was master of ceremonies and proved himself an impromptu speaker of wonderful resources.

Before leaving the table the membership present gave pledges for current expenses, aggregating about $2,000, which will be added to by absent members, and which will make a total to be used for the purpose named of $3,000 or more. It was a real fellowship meeting and all were glad to be there.

THE PRESIDENT'S GIFTS

As estimated in the gossip of the Republican cloak rooms of Congress, the gifts received by President Wilson from the rulers and people of Europe were worth any sum between a vague "half a million" and a more indefinite "several millions" of dollars. This immense valuation was placed on them by the partisans not as a measure of President Wilson's popularity in Europe, but as a spur to criticism of him at home.

Now the truth is revealed in the official list of the gifts and appraisal of their value—which intrinsically is rather small. It discloses that the Republican critics, including Senator Sherman and Representative Rodenberg, were as far from right in their guesses on this subject as they usually are in respect to other statements. The presents are neither so costly as the orators declared nor yet so cheap as these gentlemen must feel after having got the facts—against their will.

We may soon see the Republican House of Representatives passing a few bills. The "investigating" committees are preparing to pass a few large expensive bills up to the Treasury for payment.

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

RED CROSS NEWS

There are those who are saying "The war is over—let us forget it," and well it is to forget, but with the things that are strictly of the war many are forgetting those that only rose to meet the nation's need and are organizations of peace as well as of war times. Years before the war the American Red Cross was established and it is no more a strictly war organization than is the government of the United States. Now that the war is ended the one dollar membership will support the splendid peace-time activities which have been planned by those who know Red Cross work.

The Red Cross is enrolling fifty nurses a month in the Lake Division alone, all to be kept at home as the overseas nursing service requires no more. There are still 30,000 American soldiers in convalescent hospitals and they are being given all the care possible. American women are realizing that the opportunity to save life is just as great in America now as it was in Europe during the war.

Statistics show that since 1900 disasters of peace-time have brought personal injury to 1,500,000 persons, at the same time destroying property valued at many millions of dollars. During 1917 alone eighty disasters were given relief by the Red Cross. The three emergency headquarters of the Lake Division are already established at Cleveland, Indianapolis and Louisville. From Red Cross warehouses in these cities supplies can be loaded on trucks in ten minutes and rushed to the disaster area.

Hospitals in ten towns in Kentucky are receiving supplies from Lake Division headquarters at Cleveland, Ohio, St. Joseph's and the Deaconess hospitals of Louisville, having received sixteen cases.

It is to continue and extend Red

Cross service for Americans that an appeal for dollar membership is to be made in the third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2-11.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Headache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theford's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theford's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and, unless something is done, serious trouble may result.

Theford's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theford's, the original and genuine. E. 79

GIRLS DRAWING $15 PER WEEK BUYING $300 FUR COATS

When it was discovered that girls earning less than $15 per week were buying coats costing all the way from $125 to $300 each, paying part down and pledging their meagre incomes for months and years to come, economists gasped.

It was while a committee from the Connecticut War Savings Organization, working in co-operation with Robert Seoville, State Food Administrator, in an attempt to track the High Cost of Living to its lair made the discovery.

"A woman representative of one of the stores in Hartford is reported to have taken orders for 250 fur coats from girl employes on one insurance company on a $1 a week basis," says a statement issued by the committee.

"These coats cost from $125 to $300 each, but in this insurance office they were purchased by girls earning probably $15 per week or less. Some of the girls will be paying on their coats for three or four years. By such reckless extravagance as this the prices of luxuries are made to soar, and to some extent the prices of necessities follow."

The statement also declared that the owner of the department store has told other merchants of Hartford that the spreading of the gospel of thrift among the people would be "bad business."

The statement also cites the instance of young women employes of the American Thread Mills at Willimantic, who when they were working only thirty-six hours per week, sold their Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps to buy expensive clothing.

Last winter, it is estimated by the committee, 25 per cent. of the bonds sold were by girl employes in various factories to make initial payments on fur coats.

The committee points out there is profiteering, undoubtedly, but that profiteering is by no means the whole story.

The work of the Connecticut thrift campaigners might well be emulated by War Savings Committees in other States. The American people are not likely to persist in a foolish policy as regards their individual spending if the obvious foolishness of that policy is pointed out to them.

Mr. Seoville says that even the poor people judge the quality of the goods by the price rather than by common sense. What merchant, in such a case, would not charge high prices for goods that would otherwise be left on his shelves?

Every large city could stand an investigation along these lines. The people got the thrift lesson during the war. They got it very quickly and they adhered to it admirably. But the ending of hostilities seemed to them, also, to be the ending of their responsibility. It was not the end—not by any means. And the people will respond to the appeal if the sound common sense of it is made clear to them.

David R. Francis, of St. Louis, ambassador to Russia, in recent addresses in his home city, has taken occasion to point out the fact that Germany is certain to recover quickly from the setback of the war, and if Americans do not guard themselves the Germans will surpass this country and gain commercial supremacy.

On all hands it is conceded that the high prices prevalent everywhere may be attributed more to lack of production than any one thing. Ambassador Francis shows that the thrifty Germans are now asking that they be permitted to work ten hours a day instead of eight hours, and the first thing the German does is to begin to save and accumulate a fund to pay off the debt and rehabilitate himself in a commercial way.

The U. S. government plan to save is ideal, and is made to reach all classes. The child saver is provided with the twenty-five cent Thrift Stamp. Then in successive steps come the $5 War Savings Stamp and the $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificate. These securities pay $4.27 per cent. if held until maturity, on January 1, 1924, a more profitable investment than the government of any other nation can offer its people.

And no investment on earth can be safer, as the entire wealth of every State in the Union is behind these Stamps and Certificates.

A $100 Certificate may be bought in October for $84.20 and any banker will be glad to give any person all of the information necessary to a thorough understanding if he really wants to invest and save.

STATE CAN'T COLLECT LIQUOR TAXES TWICE

State Auditor Robert L. Greene exploded another of Edwin P. Morrow's denunciatory statements, all of them important if true and none of them true, when he showed that there wasn't a thing in Morrow's charge that the State had been defrauded of an enormous sum of money in the tax on rectifiers. Morrow charged that the gallons reported for taxation to the State by the rectifiers did not amount to the same as the number of gallons reported to the government by 14,500,000 gallons.

Mr. Greene said the tax was paid to the State on the sworn statement of the rectifiers.

"In 1917," he said, "we made a thorough investigation of the rectifiers' tax, and, as a result, we prepared a form which they must fill out, answering definite questions designed to disclose any subterfuge by which they might be getting by."

"Conferences before which he had the rectifiers lasted through several months.

"As a result twenty-one rectifiers in 1917 paid in $12,622, which they admitted, on account of their misconstruing of the law, had been omitted in previous years. They are required by the government to keep their reports only two years, and few of them had their reports back of 1914."

They Are Your Neighbors

These folks are your neighbors. They work for the telephone company. They are regular people, just like you, your friends and family.

They eat food, wear clothes, live in houses, talk, laugh, sing, cry, get peevish (and get over it), enjoy the movies and home-made pies, just like you.

These folks are trying hard to give you the best telephone service in the world. They take pride in their work and in their company; but, sometimes, when they hear you complaining about paying a few dollars a year for telephone service they become worried and wonder how they are going to make ends meet—for they know their wages depend on what you pay for your telephone.

Sometimes some of you forget that the telephone company is made up of folks who are just like you.

The more loyal support you give the telephone the better service it can give you.

ORANG-OUTANG ON A DEBAUCH

Animal, Knowing Location of Wine Cellar, Empties Bottles and Then Disgraces Himself.

My orang-outang was not so much a man as a woman, or rather a young girl of the woods. Named Sophia, she displayed a truly feminine spirit of curiosity and a talent for imitation that excited the wonder of all who beheld her.

She took her afternoon ride on a tricycle presented to her by a circle of juvenile admirers. But she was not faultless, and at times could be very naughty. She was most naughty when under the influence of strong drink, for, notwithstanding her tender age, she had—I grieve to say it—an inconveniently loose lip.

She knew the location of the wine cellar far too well, and did not scruple to take advantage of that knowledge whenever our Tamby butler forgot to lock its door and bar its windows.

Stealthily purloining a bottle or two, preferably of champagne or some sweet cordial, she would retire to a quiet corner, neatly knock off the necks to get at the contents, and then indulge without stint or measure.

Getting hilarious and uproarious she would soon divulge, by her unseemly pranks, what had happened. Then, mounting her tricycle, she repaired sometimes to the public street, swaying from one side to the other, barked at by the disgusted dogs, and certainly not an edifying sight to see.—Dr. J. F. Scheltman, in Wide World.

OBJECT IN HIS DAILY VISIT

Man Had Special Reason for Selecting That One Doorstep Instead of Any Adjoining.

A well-known Los Angeles dentist, who had been made nervous by frequent burglaries in his vicinity, was somewhat startled recently by having a man come regularly at the same hour every evening and sit on his doorstep. He finally suggested that if it would be all the same to him, he would be pleased to have him divide his attention, and sit on some neighbor's doorstep for a while.

"But, it wouldn't be the same," shouted the visitor, in return, "nor anything like it. You are a dentist and I have an aching tooth and I haven't the courage to have it pulled out. I come here every afternoon trying to make up my mind to have it out, and as soon as I come in sight of your house it stops aching, but when I sit on your doorstep, and the confounded thing knows it can be pulled out if it gives me trouble, I have some rest."

CROWS.

No other New England birds approach crows in the matter of intelligence or hardness, and they face a New England winter with placid indifference to its possible severity. Long experience has taught them that anything which they can swallow will agree with them, but they will swallow nothing until they have paid due heed to the matter, now so popular in the industrial world, "safety first." If a tempting pile of garbage appears in the back yard they will allow the starling to try it out, and if nothing happens to these the crows will take possession after making sure that no trap is concealed in the food.

HARDLY WORTH WHILE.

"Have you any terrapin?"
"Yes, sir."
"Could you serve me a half portion?"
"We could serve it," said the waiter judiciously, "but you couldn't see it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

JUST ASKING.

"I love the ground you walk on," he said.
And a little later inquired: "Does your father own this property?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HE COULD.

She—I see a fellow married a girl before he died so that she could have his millions when he was gone. Could you love a girl like that?
He (quickly)—Where does she live?

THAT'S DIFFERENT.

"I see somebody has sued Murphy for $10,000,000."
"So? I didn't know Murphy was worth $10,000,000."

COOK-PRO TEM

By ELIZABETH GOLDEN.

It was a typical summer hotel veranda. At least so thought a perspiring and very much disgusted young man, who looked up at it from the bottom of the steep and very dusty hill.

"An Admless Eden, I'll warrant," he muttered, taking another look ahead at the long walk still before him.

Brown as a young Indian from weeks of outdoor camp life and covered with dust and perspiration, certainly no one would have recognized in this very bedraggled young man, Max Harding, whose aristocratic mother was a guest at the hotel on the hill.

Scowling fiercely, he dragged his heavy suitcase up the path, only to be met at the veranda steps by a pompous-looking individual who effectually barred his further progress.

"Can't come up the front way, fellow," said the pompous one. "All tradesmen and peddlers—with a significant look at the heavy case—"must go round the back," and he waved him grandly away.

"What the—" And then as the full significance of the servant's remark struck him, Max Harding burst into a laugh. "Tradesmen and peddlers—well, by Jove, that is a good one. I certainly must look fine," he thought to himself, and then aloud, "All right, Your Highness, I'll go round the back"—and he went.

"Maybe I can sneak in through the kitchen and get washed up before I greet mother," he thought. "If she ever catches me looking like this—Hello, whew-ew-ew," and he whistled softly, for a remarkably pretty girl sat directly in front of the kitchen door, shelling peas—thus once more blocking his progress.

"Have you a moment to spare?" he asked, removing his hat and speaking in his most engaging manner.

"I am sorry, but I haven't," said the young woman very promptly, scarcely glancing up from her work.

"Well, do you mind if I sit down on the lawn a minute?" he hazarded for his third venture.

"I do not," again responded the "fair lady of the peas," taking him in with one all-appraising glance.

So Max sank down on the little plot of grass in front of the house and, leaning his head back against the building, closed his eyes.

"Poor fellow," thought the girl, her sympathy aroused at last, "he must be pretty tired. I'm afraid I was rather sharp with him. Well, he looks dark enough for one of those Syrian or Armenian peddlers, but he certainly does not talk like one. 'I'll just run in and get him a glass of raspberry shrub. It'll cool him off before he goes.'"

She was back in a moment with a glass of delicious looking liquid, and, tugging the young man on the shoulder, she offered it to him.

"Here, drink this," she said. "I'm sorry I couldn't stop to look at your wares."

This time his mother was seated on the veranda, and she greeted him enthusiastically, but he managed to make her understand that a bath and some clean linen were the two most essential things in his life at that particular moment, and so escaped to his room.

He descended about an hour later, looking very different in his white flannels, and his mother's pride shone in her eyes, and she greeted him.

"And Max," she said, "there's the loveliest girl here. I want you to meet her. Her name is Anna Cabot."

"Now, mother," he remonstrated.

"But, Max, dear, this one is different! She's not one of the 'butterflies' that you are always objecting to. She is a graduate of a domestic science college, and she knows no end of things. But wait—she's promised to sit at our table tonight, and you'll see for yourself."

"Well, no sign of your divinity yet, mother," said Max, some minutes later, when they had started their dinner; "perhaps—hopefully—"she's changed her mind."

"No, here she comes," said Mrs. Harding, and straight to their table came the lady of his afternoon's adventure.

Lifting her eyes to acknowledge the introduction, the color flooded into the girl's face, and her eyes asked innumerable questions as she recognized him.

"Did you know that Katie, the cook, left this afternoon?" asked the girl of Mrs. Harding, some moments later when she was herself again.

"Good gracious," gasped that lady.

"Who took her place?"

"I did," said the girl, quietly measuring glances with the young man opposite her. "I promised Mr. Lane that I would try and see if the hotel couldn't run a 'conservation kitchen,' so now I'm cook, pro tem."

"Why, my dear, aren't you clever!" exclaimed his mother, looking at her son with an "I-told-you-so" expression. Just then the waitress entered the dining room with liquid refreshments clinking in a silver pitcher.

"By the way, Miss Cabot," said Max.

"Since I understand that you are 'up' in such matters—what drink would you recommend as the most cooling and refreshing for these hot days, as well as most economical?"

"Why," said the girl, faintly raising her glass as he raised his, "why—er—raspberry shrub, of course."

And over their glasses their eyes met in a look of complete understanding. (Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Cannot Praise this Remedy too highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA. You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

WOMAN LOSES $5,000

The suit that was filed in the St. Louis Circuit Court a few days ago by a St. Louis woman who alleges she lost $5,334 in a fraudulent oil stock transaction would not have been necessary had she invested in U. S. Securities that the government is now urging its citizens to buy.

The woman wanted 5,000 shares in an oil concern that promised good returns. Her broker, she alleges, said he could obtain the stock for $2 per share. She gave cash mentioned and her notes for the balance and then learned, she alleges, that the stock cost only $1 per share.

There is absolutely no chance for fraud in the purchase of the United States Treasury Savings Certificates that may now be obtained through the Federal Reserve Bank or the governmental authorized agency. These new securities are issued in denominations of $100 or $1,000, and the buyer takes no chance.

Of course Uncle Sam does not promise any fabulous interest. But he does promise a splendid return. The government pays 4.27 per cent. on these bonds, and when tax exemptions are reckoned the investment just about stacks up with the six per cent. investments offered in substantial commercial enterprises.

But the beauty of an investment with Uncle Sam is that one's principal is absolutely secure, and the interest is certain to be forthcoming on the promised day.

TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS

Art has been called the hand-maiden of religion, so why should we not bring into child life all the riches which art has to offer. Every parent knows the child's interest in all things pictorial. If a father can draw, even crudely, some common object of our daily life, he will have plenty of opportunity to exercise whatever talent he may possess along this line.

All children love to draw and paint, it is an instinctive form of self-expression and not enough attention is given to the appeal which art makes to little people.

No one of us forgets the pictures which hung on the walls of our father's home, and no one can calculate the influence which such pictures have exercised over us. Let us place before our children the lovely reproductions of the great masters, which we may now obtain at small cost and many of which are so child-like as to appeal immediately to all children.

In these times it is not difficult to use the pictorial, for many magazines and newspapers contain some good pictures. Every child's thoughts and ideals should be formed on what is beautiful and worth while in art, music and literature.

While a certain amount of attention is given to the value of pictorial art in the schools, the parent can supplement this by commencing to collect from the newspapers and magazines much that would appeal to the child, and, with the aid of a scrapbook, considerable general information can be instilled with little effort.

A child never tire of a story and every picture has in itself the germ of one. The child's interest is easily aroused, and he absorbs far more than we realize. Long before the time arrives for reading, writing and arithmetic he may acquire a liberal education through pictures and the stories which Daddy has woven about them.

Much enjoyment of the great works we see in our art museums is taken from us because we are unable to appreciate art, for the reason that in our earliest and most impressionable years no attention was given to our natural interest in the pictured world, and one cannot plunge into the atmosphere of real art at a bound.

Why do parents exhibit with pride little John's first crude attempt at picture-making and let it go at that?

It should be a guide post for their own attitude toward the child and lead them to cultivate this perfectly natural form of expression. Every parent is able to open up a new world to his child by careful and judicious use of the material which comes easiest to his hand.

The following list of books may be helpful to parents: "Teaching Children How to Draw," by Walter Sargent; "Fine and Industrial Art," by Walter Sargent; "First Step in the Enjoyment of Pictures," by Maude I. G. Oliver (published by Henry Holt & Co.); "Play Life in the First Eight Years," by Luella Palmer. See chapter on "Manual Play."

Help to reach all the parents of the country by cutting this out and passing it on to a friend.

JOE TINKER'S CONFIDENCE

When Christy Mathewson was in his prime, and he was the greatest pitcher in base ball in his day, there was one batter he always hated to see come up in a pinch. That man was Joe Tinker, then shortstop for the Chicago Cubs. Three on and an ordinary heavy hitter meant nothing in Matty's fair young life. He just put a little more on the ball, the batter popped to the infield and Big Six walked to the bench.

But when Tinker came to bat it was different. Joe was not a heavy hitter against other pitchers, but his old black hat was speckled with safe hits off Matty. He would stroll up to the plate, grab friend bat by the extreme end, take a healthy swing at the old reliable fadeaway and pull up at second shouting all the sarcastic things he had thought up about John McGraw the night before.

It wasn't Joe's batting eye. Matty's fadeaway was just as deceptive when it floated up to Joe as to any other batter. It was confidence. Tinker knew he could hit Matty's offerings, so he could.

Confidence is just as effective outside of base ball. Absence of fear qualifies you to meet any emergency. You can hit any kind of pitching, either in base ball or business if you are not afraid you can't.

Nine-tenths of all fear is financial fear. Fear of old age, unemployment, misfortune and sickness is the most effective destroyer of confidence. Nothing produces confidence like having an adequate sum put by where it is readily available in case of necessity. The best way to get such a sum is to save it. Putting aside a certain amount each week, the moment the pay envelope is opened is neither hard nor burdensome, and will produce a fund that will make you free from financial anxiety.

The place to keep such a fund is in some safe sound profitable security like War Savings Stamps and Savings Certificates. There it will be available whenever you need it. It cannot be lost, it cannot grow smaller and it cannot be affected by market fluctuation.

With such a confidence behind you, you are prepared for anything. You can step up to the plate in a pinch, knowing that you have it on the pitcher.

THE PEOPLE'S OPPORTUNITY

Kentuckians have never in their lives had a finer opportunity to do the State a real service than they will have November 4. No candidate of any party every measured up to a higher standard of citizenship than Governor James D. Black. A christian gentleman, whose life has been an open book; respected and esteemed by his neighbors without regard to party; a lawyer of ability and a successful business man, his candidacy should appeal to those Kentuckians who hold the welfare of the State above any party and especially to those who have fought the battles of Democracy for so many years. Governor Black has been a Democrat in a section of Kentucky where men were Democrats solely from principle. He is entitled to the vote of every Democrat in Kentucky. He should get the vote of every Independent. If he does that the doom of the Republican millionaire combine is assumed November 4th.

THE WAR AGAINST WILSON

Republicans are insisting not only on fighting the present campaign on State issues, but on making those issues the issues of four years ago, when the people, after due deliberation, decided that whatever the faults of Owsley Stanley they preferred him to Ed. Morrow. It is not possible for them, however, to avoid the consequences of Republican war on the President in the United States Senate. The animus of that fight against President Wilson is stated succinctly but powerfully in the address of Congressman Alvin W. Barkley as chairman of the Democratic State Convention when he said:

"And then when this army had driven the enemy back at Belleau Wood, at Chateau Thierry, at Fismes, at St. Mihiel, in the Argonne Forest, and all the other immortal spots where American blood sanctified the soil of France, and that enemy with broken sword and flag of truce sued for peace on terms laid down by the commander-in-chief of that victorious army, we see these same Republican sustainers and upholders seeking to discredit the President of the nation and the spokesman of their country in a foreign land, where he had gone amid the grateful acclamations of a burdened world to help restore the peace of nations and gather up again the fragments of civilization. We see them by every contemptible device which demagogues display seeking to hinder, to thwart, to intimidate, to belittle and discredit the President of this great nation in the hope that his efforts to vindicate the cause for which our nation fought might come to naught. And when, after months of weighty counsel and profound deliberations among the representatives of those who had won the war, the greatest peace treaty ever penned since man ascended from the depths of savagery and laid before the world for its approval, we see that same group of envious men seeking to emasculate it and tear its vitals to shreds while the world awaits over a volcano for the return of peace."

The people of Kentucky want that treaty ratified. They want war made as nearly impossible as may be for the future. For that reason they favor the League of Nations. Mr. Morrow, as quoted by William C. Shinnick, one of the most reliable and dependable newspaper men in the State, seems to be against it. The people will decide whether it is an issue November 4th when they elect Governor Black, who favors the treaty and the league, over Mr. Morrow, who "seems to be" against it.

How Mat Cohen Spends Your Money

Facts for the Taxpayers of Kentucky

Mat S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, employs more people in his department and spends more money than any other three combined departments of the State government. It is very important to the taxpayers, especially the farmers, how this money is spent.

In three years, Cohen's personal traveling expenses, which you taxpayers pay, have piled up to a total of $4,153.93, an average of $1,384.64 per year. In 1917 he charged you taxpayers $5.00 per day for ten days for attending the State Fair in addition to railroad fare and a hotel and taxicab bill of more than $100.00. Does anybody pay you to visit the State Fair?

Vouchers on file in the Auditor's office at Frankfort show what Cohen has been doing with your money. Below are a few samples of the extravagance of this man Cohen who, four years ago, solemnly promised you taxpayers to spend your money carefully and economically:

COHEN CHARGES YOU EXTRA FOR DOING HIS JOB

The minute Cohen was elected to office he got the state legislature to raise his salary, but the legal department of the state ruled he could not have it. As Commissioner of Agriculture, Cohen is a member of all the boards in his department and his duty is to attend their meetings regularly as a part of the work for which you taxpayers pay him a salary. But Cohen charged you from $3.00 to $10.00 a day for attending meetings of various boards. The total you paid him for this was $620.00 for 83 days, an average of $7.44 per day. Easy money for answering "Here" at roll call.

Cohen was paid $100.00 upon the order of the Veterinary Examiners' Board and it was charged to the Veterinary License Fund. The Attorney General ruled the claim was illegal.

Certain clerks in Cohen's department draw money in addition to their salaries. One was paid $36.00 a meeting for attending four meetings of the Live Stock Sanitary Board. She draws a regular salary of $2,100.00 a year which you taxpayers pay. Can you beat it?

Another clerk gets a salary of $1,200.00 a year and in addition she is paid an extra $400.00 as clerk of the State Board of Veterinary Examiners. Pretty soft.

WHAT'S IN THE STATE FAIR BOOKS?

On Oct. 6, the Republican State Campaign Committee asked the privilege of having the State Fair Books examined by certified public accountants. Cohen at first consented, but later denied the privilege. When threatened with a law suit, he said he would submit the request to a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, Oct. 25, a few days before the election.

The books of the State Fair belong to the taxpayers who contribute huge sums of money each year to help keep it going.

Among other items in those books are vouchers showing Mat Cohen's personal expense account. Why does Cohen object to an immediate examination of those books?

HOLDING UP TREATY HITS DARK TOBACCO

The claim advanced by the Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, Republican nominee for Governor, that the League of Nations and the early ratification of the treaty of peace is a matter of no interest to the people of Kentucky in the present race is strongly opposed by the tobacco growers in the Western and Southern parts of the State.

Mr. Morrow declares that his election or the election of Governor Black will have no effect on the speed of the ratification of the treaty. He states that Governor Black can't vote for it and he can't vote against it. By his definition the League of Nations is a matter that lies three thousand miles across the seas and touches nowhere on the everyday life of the people of Kentucky.

The actual truth of the matter is this. Unless the treaty of peace is ratified in a very short time practically the whole of the black tobacco crop will be a drug on the market this winter. Black tobacco is an export crop; the larger portion of it is shipped to foreign countries, Germany, Italy, France and Spain, to say nothing of the other countries. These same countries today are ready to take over enough to supply their wants, provided the treaty is ratified, trade routes opened and credits standardized. But they can't take chances. The Allied and neutral powers are uncertain and the enemy powers are prohibited from trading in America.

It is reliably stated that speculation in the tobacco crop, usually brisk at this season, is almost at a standstill in the Black Belt. Authorities do not believe that the prices will approach those of former years unless the foreign market is opened. Buyers cannot afford to pay high prices for the crop unless they are reasonably certain that they will have a market themselves.

Europe needs tobacco and wants it. Cigarettes and cigars of inferior grade, even those made from substitutes, sell at prices three times as high as those asked in the United States. A good cigar can't be bought in Germany. Foreign countries can and will pay high prices for tobacco—if we let them.

Governor Black promises to do everything in his power to promote an early ratification of the treaty of peace as written in Paris. Mr. Morrow, to say the least, has never declared in favor of the League of Nations and such ratification. He has in certain speeches made slighting references to the league. His party in the Senate is fighting, fighting to prevent ratification.

The tobacco grower in the Black

Belt, owes it to himself and to the United States to vote for Governor Black and the party which wants to protect him and give him an opportunity to sell his product at a fair price.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1919.

NUMBER 17

LARGE CROWD GREETES BLACK

Made a Splendid Impression and His Remarks Were Received With Hearty Applause.

Thursday evening at the Courthouse Governor Black was greeted by one of the largest audiences that has listened to any political speech during the State campaign in this city. Not only was it a large audience, but one of the most attentive and intelligent gatherings that has assembled in a long time. The crowd showed plainly who the representative citizenship were for for Governor of Kentucky. The hoodlum was conspicuously absent; it was a thinking assembly. Governor Black was presented to the audience by Judge Senff and the Governor at once entered upon the issues between party platforms and the opinions of candidates as well. The Governor is in high spirits as to the results of the election November 4th. Morrow was taken to task for misrepresentations relative to the school book issue and showed that the very books criticised by Morrow and associates were the ones rejected by the committee. The fact is Morrow is as ignorant on this school book matter as he has been proven to be on many others, and especially with the tax commission matter. Morrow made such a to do about unnecessary offices, but refused to state what ones could be dispensed with. The Governor showed how necessary it was to have a Governor in sympathy with the President in his efforts to secure the approval by the Senate of the peace treaty and League of Nations. The Governor refuted every charge made by Morrow and left his audience in the very best spirits. He made a splendid impression and was frequently interrupted by applause. Montgomery county is strong for Governor Black and predictions are freely made that his majority in this county will be from three to four hundred.

TOBACCO MARKET OPENS

The Lexington tobacco market will open Tuesday, December 2, it was decided at a meeting of the warehouse men held Wednesday afternoon at the Central and Planters' offices. The house for the opening sale has not been selected. As yet the tobacco men of this city have had no meeting, but it is thought that sales here will start about the same time the Lexington market opens.

Pears for preserving at Vanassell's.

ORGANIZATION PERFECTED

Representatives from the Kentucky Children's Home Society have perfected the Montgomery County Organization which will aid in raising the fund to build adequate quarters for the dependent children of the state.

Miss Georgia Sledd, County Superintendent of Schools, has her work already under headway in the county schools, where box suppers and pie suppers and other entertainments will be given until the county school quota is reached.

Professor Hopper is chairman for the Graded and High School in Mt. Sterling. This school is one of the old and steady friends to the cause of friendless children and it is practically certain that under the impetus of this great need for these little ones that this school will go over the top.

The chairmanship of the citizens' committee has been taken by Rev. Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman. With the competent workers that Dr. Yeaman can call to his assistance, success is assured also for this committee, which is asked to raise the very reasonable sum of $3,000.00.

County Superintendent W. O. Bank is chairman of the County School Committee in Menefee. Mr. M. E. Mynhier is chairman of the citizens' committee and Rev. Dr. Giffin is chairman for the Graded and High School at Frenchburg.

LOCAL MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

What came near being a serious accident occurred on "Dead Man's Curve" on the Paris and Lexington pike last Tuesday. C. G. Pangburn and a party of friends were returning to this city in the Pangburn machine, when the car skidded on the slippery road and ran into a telephone post. Mr. Pangburn was badly bruised about the face and body and received several severe cuts from the flying glass from the windshield, as did A. S. Setters. The other occupants of the car were uninjured.

"SUPERIOR" CATTLE

Boone Lacy, of West Liberty, reached here Friday afternoon with a large number of choice cattle. Mr. Lacy handles only high grade stock. Had he a trade mark that would correspond with the class of stock that he handles on the Mt. Sterling Courtyard stock sales it would be "Superior."

FARMS AT AUCTION

J. A. Boone, Master Commissioner of the Clark Circuit Court, will sell at auction at the Courthouse door in this city on Saturday, October 25th, at about 2 P. M., six splendid farms, owned by the late A. B. Hampton, and all located in Montgomery county. On Monday, October 27th, the same party will sell at the Courthouse in Winchester at the same hour three Clark county farms for the same estate. These various farms compose about 2,000 acres of land and is possibly the biggest sale ever held in the Blue Grass. If you are interested in a good farm you should not fail to read the large advertisement in this issue and attend the sales. For further information interested parties should address Benton & Davis, attorneys, Winchester, Ky.

OVER $300 AN ACRE

Cravens & Turpin, as agent for J. W. Henry, sold last week to J. A. Stephenson, of Scott county, his farm of 86 3-4 acres on the Levee pike, about two miles from this city, for $27,000.

COURT DAY REPORT

Largest crowd for many moons in town, all talking about the races to be held here this week, October 22, 23, 24 and 25. Over 100 entries to the running, trotting and pacing races have been received, also prizes for tobacco and corn. There was the largest number of cattle for sale since October, 1918—7,000 head, and they found ready sale at fully $1 per hundred pounds over last court-day. There was quite a number of large buyers from other states, probably induced to come here from reading my reports of the great bargains gotten last court-day in cattle, and the sellers, after the low prices of September court, bought them cheaper and would have made money on September prices and when they could get from 7 to 10c advance they sold readily and never have I seen cattle change hands faster. From 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. the scales were more than kept busy. There were but few 1,000-lb. steers and they sold for 11 cents; 900-lb. at 9 cents; 700-lb. at 8 to 9 cents; fat cows from 7 to 9 cents; poor cows from 5 to 6 cents; canners from 3 to 5 cents. Saw no hogs nor sheep. Mule colts were few in number, but sold higher than last court. While on my way to the stockyards on a street crowded with people, I heard three pistol shots in quick succession. Stopped my buggy as I did not care to catch a bullet not intended for me. Soon a marshal came along with a bare-headed man who did the shooting; then one with the shot man riding in an auto. He was shot twice in the head and once in the body, but the head wounds were only flesh ones; the other may prove fatal. The men were brothers-in-law and had a cow and buggy trade and quarreled over it. The wounded man was named White and the other Willoughby.

Below you will find several sales which will give the reader some idea of the market:

Mr. Bruce sold 6 1,000-lb. steers for 10 cents.

A. Trimble sold 8 800-lb. steers at 8 cents.

Same party sold 12 700-lb. steers at 7 cents.

George Stafford sold 40 800-lb. steers at 9 cents.

S. Trimble sold 25 650-lb. steers at 63-4 cents.

Thos Berry, sold 6 600-lb. heifers at 61-2 cents.

M. C. Wilson sold 15 800-lb. steers at 8 cents, and 15 900-lb. heifers at 9 cents.

Andrew Webb sold 27 900-lb. steers at 7 cents.

Sam Keaton sold 15 900-lb. steers at 8 cents.

BARKLEY MAKES HIT

Congressman From First District Enthusiastically Received and Delivers Splendid Speech.

Hon. Alben W. Barkley, the noble Representative in Congress of the First District of Kentucky, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Courthouse Monday afternoon in the interest of the Democratic State ticket. The Congressman made good the claims of his constituents that he is an able, eloquent and convincing speaker, worthy of the credit of his illustrious predecessor, the lamented Ollie M. James.

In a clear cut, logical speech bristling with facts and figures Mr. Barkley arraigned the Republicans as being unworthy of being trusted to administer the affairs of either State or nation. He showed how weak and unfounded were the sweeping criticisms of Morrow and appealed to the Democrats to support the nominees of the party that would uphold the Democratic leaders of the nation, who have labored so valiantly for the welfare of the country and that a Republican victory in Kentucky would be heralded as a repudiation of Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations. Mr. Barkley was introduced by Hon. W. J. Fields, who spoke briefly in behalf of the Democratic nominees for State offices.

"Remember, Abe, how we used to think she was foolish and frivolous? We didn't know much about women in those days."

A BIG FEATURE

"Oh, You Women," one of Paramount's biggest comedy dramas, will be at the Tubb Friday. It's theme is entirely new and built on new lines. It's not only a big screen feature, but it's an arcraft special; the name in its self speaks for what you may expect of this "Oh, You Woman."

YOUNG MATRON DIES

Mrs. Nellie Snelling Knox, aged twenty-four years, wife of Stanley Knox, died Saturday night at her home on the Levee pike after an illness of several days.

Mrs. Knox was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Snelling, and in addition to her husband and parents, she is survived by two children, a little girl of three, and an infant son ten days old.

Funeral services were held from the residence of her parents by the Rev. R. C. Goldsmith, of the Baptist church, followed by burial in Machpelah Cemetery.

IS IT WORTH WHILE TO ADOPT OUR STATE AMENDMENT? UNQUESTIONABLY YES.

The State Prohibition Amendment has been submitted and there is no legal method by which it may be withdrawn. If the State Amendment should now be permitted to go by default or adopted by a small majority the liquor business would increase it is seen that there is a lack of prohibition sentiment in the State and they would have decidedly less regard for the law.

Our Kentucky Court of Appeals has repeatedly decided that under the present constitution of Kentucky no law can be enacted by our legislature to prevent persons from securing or possessing liquors for their personal use.

Until our State constitution is amended, therefore, on the plea of "personal use," the "bootlegger" and the keeper of the "blind tiger" will literally go free as far as our State laws are concerned, and Kentucky will find herself wholly dependent upon the federal law for the suppression of these illicit liquor sellers.

This fact alone makes the ratification of the State Amendment imperative.

We need the State Amendment to make it will make possible also the enactment of State laws suited to meet the specific, peculiar needs of Kentucky, thereby giving Kentucky citizens the two-fold security of State and national prohibition.

The State Amendment adopted by an immense majority will tremendously increase the advantage of our national prohibition amendment for the enforcement of prohibition in Kentucky. Each will supplement the other.

Finally, should there be any slip, or hold-up in the courts concerning the national prohibition amendment, it would be an immeasurable advantage to have our State Amendment under which we can enact stringent State laws with which to suppress this greatest menace to good government. With both the national and the State prohibition amendments ratified the bootlegger and the blind tiger in Kentucky can be made to be a relic of the past.

Senator Sherman learned through "gossip in the cloak room" that the gifts received by President Wilson in Europe are worth "a half million of dollars." Mr. Sherman apparently depends on "the gossip of the cloak room" for much of the substance of his speeches in the Senate.

232 Acres of Bourbon County Land

The garden spot of the great and only Blue Grass section at

PUBLIC AUCTION

Beginning at 10 A. M.

Tuesday, October 28th, 1919

Having purchased farming land in the county in which I make my home and desiring to confine my activities in this line to where they can have my constant and personal supervision I have decided to offer my farm at public auction and have sub-divided it into three tracts.

TRACT NO. 1 CONTAINS 12 ACRES

Lies on the Prescott pike, one mile from North Middletown, is all in grass and has on it a small dwelling, stable and corn crib, small pond and extra good well and fine spring. Fencing good. Joins the old Pence place.

TRACT NO. 2 CONTAINS 75 ACRES

Lies on the Prescott pike directly across the pike from Tract No. 1. All of this land has been in blue grass for twenty years with the exception of 20 acres broken for tobacco this year. Has on it a five-bent tobacco barn, built this year. Pond large enough to supply 100 head of cattle the year around, two fine springs. Fencing good.

TRACT NO. 3 CONTAINS 145 ACRES

On the Mt. Sterling and North Middletown model pike and is located 1 1/2 miles from North Middletown. Has on it a six-room frame dwelling, in good repair, cistern at the house (just completed), two barns that will hold 18 acres of tobacco; both in good condition; two corn cribs and a No. 1 concrete dipping vat.

Of this farm 110 acres is in grass, 30 acres in corn and 5 acres in tobacco this year. Has on it two pools and two never failing springs. A real tobacco farm, ask the neighbors about it or anyone familiar with Bourbon county land. This farm is splendidly fenced with American wire fencing and is divided into eight boundaries. This farm joins tract No. 2 at the rear.

These farms being close to North Middletown recognized as one of the centers of culture and refinement where there are located fine schools and churches and where live the most hospitable people in the world, this surely offers splendid opportunities to those seeking a good farm in a good community. Tract No. 1 will first be sold and then Tract No. 2 and then these two will be offered together and will be sold the way they bring the most money.

Sanders Laflin, Charles and Lee Hudson are living on these places and will be pleased to show the farms to prospective purchasers or the owner will show the places by appointments.

TERMS—10 per cent. cash on day of sale; 23 1/3 per cent. when deed is made and possession given March 1, 1920, 33 1/3 per cent. March 1, 1921, and 33 1/3 per cent. March 1, 1922, with lien to secure unpaid purchase money or purchaser may pay as much more as he desires when transfer is made. The purchaser to pay taxes on land for year 1920.

SPECIAL NOTICE—The sale will be held on Tract No. 3 on the Paris pike. Go see these farms, make inquiry as to the statements made about them and if you are in the market I feel confident that you will be present on the day of sale and remember THESE PLACES WILL BE SOLD.

RAMPANT RADICALISM WOULD RUIN AND RULE

When Germany's army of barbarians were almost in sight of Paris and America and the Allies held their breath under the fearful tension of whether that great city would be looted by this horde of ravagers and ravishers, the civilization of this country was not in greater danger, probably not so great, as it is today, when the same Hell-inspired forces of evil are at work throughout our land to ravage, to ravish and to loot the country and utterly destroy our government.

The threat of revolution is heard everywhere. The Radicals and Socialists in high places and in low, twin children of Satan himself, are seeking to destroy the government of this republic and revel in the wild orgies of murder and crime which have brought Russia down into the mire of woe and unspeakable misery. The influences which are at work there were largely vomited from Germany and from Hell, synonymous terms then, for the present and for all time to come, unless Germany shall be redeemed from the Satanic power which its people have gladly and joyously taken unto their bosom.

This is the spirit back of the strikes which are sweeping over the land. Innocent men are being made to do the bidding of the vilest Radicals, Socialists and Bolsheviks that this or any other country has ever known. Such labor unions, as are now controlled by Radicalism, are endangering the nation, and it behooves every patriotic man, and there are thousands of them in labor unions, either to control these organizations for good, or else to come out from among them and stand for the safety of civilization.

The time has come for the teacher and the preacher, the business man and the newspaper, and for everyone who loves not simply America, but who loves human liberty and civilization, to awaken to the seriousness of the struggle which is now before us in the effort of the Radicalism to dominate the country.—Manufacturers' Record.

KENTUCKY BOOKS AS CHEAP AS ANY

Answering the charge of Edwin P. Morrow, leader of the party of denunciation and despair in Kentucky, State Superintendent of Public Instruction V. O. Gilbert, said he would investigate Morrow's charge that geographies in use in the Indiana and Kentucky schools were sold cheaper in Indiana than in Kentucky. Gilbert said the State was protected against such a thing as Morrow denounced, by a bond, and that if that bond had been broken the publishers would pay the penalty.

Mr. Gilbert said he would investigate Morrow's charge and that if they proved true restitution would be made to those overcharged. He said:

"The contract provides that the books are to be sold in Kentucky as cheaply as in any other State, and if investigation bears out his charge that the difference in the books is but a subterfuge, a penalty and reimbursement will follow.

"We assume at the outset that contractors will live up to their contracts, and everything cannot be done at once, but I will say that if Morrow's charges are correct Kentucky school children will not lose; for there is a bond, and restitution can be had at any time."

“OH, YOU WOMEN” Attention, Women! PANTS WON THE WAR WEAR PANTS

Ernest Truex in “OH, YOU WOMEN”

ALL HE SAW WAS PANTS!

He was just back from the war—wounded and longing for the sight of a regular female woman.

But he found mother and “her” and almost all the girls he knew wearing trousers. They were also running the town, while the men nursed the babies. And “she” had stolen his job!

So “Little Abe” declared a new war against a new tyranny. And as Abraham Lincoln freed the black men of the South, so did Abraham Lincoln Jones free the white men of his home town.

If you're a woman, it will make you laugh—and think a bit.

If you're a man—“Oh, You Women!”

STRODE

Mrs. Jennie Eubank Strode greeted her Lord and Master on the Sabbath morning, October 19. She had truly walked with him, carrying his precepts into every phase of her life. She had been a dutiful daughter, a devoted wife, a loving and self-sacrificing mother and a Christian who strove earnestly to further His kingdom and to bring His will upon earth as it is in Heaven.

She died in the faith which had always been hers—that He doeth all things well.

She was ready to go, leaving the dear children confidently to the care of Him who had made life so happy for her. The vacant chair in the home will have its counterpart in the vacant chair at church, for Mrs. Strode had ever been a most useful and beloved member of the First Baptist church, being seldom absent from its services.

Mrs. Strode is survived by her husband, Clayton Strode, and five children, Nelson and Homer Strode, Mrs. Clay Sutherland, of Paris; Mrs. Cecil Haggard and Miss Ruth Strode. Three sisters and two brothers also survive her—Mrs. Emma Beall, of Mt. Sterling; Mrs. W. D. Judy and Miss Effie Eubank, of Clark county and W. W. Eubank and Porter Eubank, of this county.—Contributed.

"RIGHT THE WRONG OF 1918-19"

The Republicans are circulating a poster "Right the Wrong of 1915." We know of no calamity that befell the people of Kentucky in that good year and we believe that the citizens of this State are in no frame of mind in this momentous and glorious Democratic year of 1919 to listen to the cries of "Eddie" Morrow for "Soothing Syrup" in the form of the Governorship of Kentucky because a "naughty" lad named Owsley Stanley smashed to smithereens his little red wagon that he intended to hitch to a star in 1915. No! Right the wrong of 1918 when a boss driven electorate in the city of Louisville defeated for a seat in the American Congress its recognized leader, Hon. Swager Shirley. Right the wrong of 1919 when a stay-at-home vote in the Eighth District allowed King Swope to attain the seat of the lamented Helm and thereby give courage to the Republicans of the Nation, who shouted that it was a repudiation of the matchless Wilson. Rebuke Lodge, Johnson & Co., for their contemptuous conduct and strengthen the hand of our stricken leader by giving an old-fashioned Democratic majority for James D. Black and his able associates.

TO THE TEMPERANCE VOTERS

This writing at this period is for the consideration of all voters, Democrats and Republican voters as well.

For many years, let it be remembered by all people, there has been a fight on for the adoption of temperance laws leading up to bone dry, which will be at no far distant day; that this contest has been waged and won by Democratic legislation and that every law in the interest of prohibition has been written into the Statute books of Kentucky by Democratic administrations. This is a fact not to be disputed in sincerity, and is proof invincible of Democratic friendship to prohibition movements. Foremost in all efforts to enact and enforce such laws Governor James D. Black has been a leading figure. Now voters, you who would think, would you vote for Morrow, who has pushed his hand up in violation to his will at the last moment, or for Black, who has always been for total abstinence. Thinking time is on, be honest, voter, and let not your prerogative fail to disturb the conscience of an honest man, one who would save the boy from the dreaded cup.

FLOUR AND FLOWERS

What an incomparable pair! "Flowery" Morrow and "Floury" Ballard! But alas, Morrow's choicest rhetorical flowers have been blasted by the biting breath of an ominous silence since his refusal to express his opinion upon the paramount question of the hour—the League of Nations. "Floury" Ballard, who was chosen on account of his well known ability to furnish the "dough" so necessary for any Republican campaign, has been investigated. In the investigation it was shown that Mr. Ballard is a very just man—for he did not impose the "tariff" that would raise the necessary amount upon the citizens of distant New Orleans and the Gulf section. Instead he charged the citizens of Louisville and vicinity, who enjoy the privileges and blessings of the Hert regime, $1.10 more per barrel for his product than he did the less fortunate inhabitants of the Southland.

BE HONEST

Montgomery Republicans, you who have always been dry, allow your minds to go back to the Republican Convention in 1915 and you will recognize this man Morrow aligned with the whiskey element who, with vicious voice, killed the prohibition plank offered by Judge E. C. Orear, which would have been a part of the Republican platform of 1915. Is this man, who wanted the saloons open to your sons, a suitable person to become Governor at this time? If Morrow is for the closed saloon now, when did he change, when was he converted? No Republican voter, who stands for prohibition, can, with these facts before him, be honest with himself and the prohibitionists and vote for Morrow. They can't do it. Now is the time to deal fair with your conscience.

PARDON

Republicans charge the Democrats with too free use of the pardoning power and to refute their charges we ask them to compare the number of pardons granted by Governors Bradley and Willson, Republicans, with those granted by Governors McCreary, Stanley and Black, Democrats. The two Republican Governors have granted 926 pardons, while the three Democratic Governors have granted 608, the Republican Governors having granted more than 50 per cent. more than the Democratic Governors.

There is not a charge made that cannot be answered just as easily.

10c PER POUND FOR SUGAR

CROP REPORT

With the growing season practically ended, except for late tobacco and a very small amount of the latest corn that is now maturing, Kentucky's crop prospects now indicate the production of approximately 425,648,000 pounds of tobacco compared to 427,500,000 pounds last year, and 81,842,000 bushels of corn compared to 93,600,000 bushels last year. The United States' entire tobacco crop this year is now estimated at 1,278,062,000 pounds, compared to 1,348,019,000 pounds last year, or about 4.6 per cent. decrease.

These estimates were issued at Louisville, Friday, through the office of H. F. Bryant, Kentucky field agent of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates, and the following estimates of other crops produced in Kentucky this season, with comparisons with 1919 crops, were issued at the same time: oats, 8,536,000 bushels, compared to 9,600,000 last year; barley, 175,000 bushels, compared to 196,000; potatoes, 4,502,000 bushels, compared to 5,625,000; sweet potatoes, 1,094,000 bushels, compared to 1,235,000; sorghum molasses, 2,550,000 gallons, compared to 2,826,000 gallons last year; clover seed, 36,000 bushels, compared to 34,000 last year; apples, 2,025,000 bushels, compared to 3,780,000 bushels in 1918 and pears, 126,000 bushels, compared to 140,000 bushels last year.

The widespread drouth in Kentucky this summer damaged practically all late growing crops more or less, but the more favorable weather of the last few weeks has helped late tobacco, corn and pastures to grow out some. The drouth was very irregular and spotted all over the State, some local sections having a fairly good growing season, while adjoining sections were parched.

Stock water was scarce in some counties and pastures are still not generally very good, though they have improved much during the last month and some sections now have good grass.

The hemp crop in the Blue Grass counties was cut to an exceedingly small acreage this season and most of what was grown apparently will give a light yield.

PUBLIC UTILITIES WAKE UP

Public utilities of Kentucky—electric, gas, traction, water and telephone companies—in a combined effort are to place their "after-war" case directly in the hands of persons to whom they are responsible—their customers.

With the plight in which the railroads have been placed as an incentive for immediate action, united effort is to be made to place the facts regarding public utilities directly before the public and let it be the judge and jury.

Their composite "case" is to be made known through the Kentucky Committee on Public Utility Information, whose organization has just been announced. This committee, with offices in Louisville, is to operate "under the auspices of the Kentucky Association of Public Utilities, and other public service organizations, and in the interest of their customers, investors and employees."

The public utilities' plans call for the expenditure of several million dollars for rehabilitation work, extensions, and improvements. They are asking only for "sane, scientific, non-political and just treatment," such as will enable them to perform the services imposed by their intimate relationship with the everyday life of every man, woman and child in the state and the communities in which they operate.

The purpose of the committee is outlined in a public statement as follows:

"The committee proposes to do for the public utilities what the railroads failed to do until they were almost strangled, namely, to put before the people of Kentucky, by every possible means, the economic facts of the public utility industry, as an industry. This takes in the small town light plant as well as the big city electric company or street railway system; 'independent' and 'farmer' telephone companies, as well as the Bell interests.

"The gas and electric companies of the State daily serve thousands of customers. No words are needed to emphasize how closely the lives, happiness and comfort of every man, woman and child are linked up with the public utilities. Every person who uses a telephone rides on a street car or cooks or reads with gas or electricity is entitled to know the facts concerning these companies.

"Without efficient utilities, cities and towns cannot prosper, and utilities cannot be efficient without prosperity. They must pay their bills like people who buy from the grocer, and as the grocer must pay his, or they must shut down. Every human precaution has been taken against a monetary panic, while, generally speaking, no practical or considerable thought has been given to the preservation of the service companies without which the industrial, social and commercial life of the country cannot continue.

"The public utility companies have been seriously affected by the war. With tremendous wage increases necessitated by the high cost of living, which shows but little, if any, abatement, and prices of materials up not less than 100 per cent, and in some instances three times that, they have not had consideration commensurate with their dues.

"Upon their ability to earn a just wage, depends their ability to spend money for wages, for improvement of service, and for new building, the result of which means improvement of the community in which they operate. It is to the interest of every citizen that the public utility companies, upon which he depends so much, shall be fairly treated and that their facilities shall be developed to the utmost. It is only through this that he can obtain the service which should be his.

"Affecting the credit of the light, railway, power or telephone companies in any city or town immediately means inferior service. It cannot be otherwise. The company cannot furnish something it has not the money to buy for the customer. It particularly hurts in the small town or city where citizens are necessarily dependent upon some single public utility plant. Impairment of public utility credit not only constitutes an attack on the securities you yourself hold, but on those of your banks, insurance companies, and the countless concerns which have a collateral interest. No reasonable man will contend that capital is not entitled to a fair wage, as well as labor, or that the investments which go to build up and make a community should not be as well protected as the home a man and his wife have bought with their savings. "The situation is not a pleasant one, but is one which must be met squarely in a calm, scientific, non-political and just way, without prejudice or demagoguery.

"If the utilities are not to be strangled, the best preventive is public knowledge of the economic facts which go to make the tremendous factor they are in the State's industrial and economic life. Unless they prosper there will be no prosperity in Kentucky. Just treatment is essential both to the maintenance of good service and to the protection of investors. The undermining of the credit of the utilities cannot fail to have far-reaching effects upon general credit and business prosperity, for their credit cannot be placed in jeopardy and the effect localized or even restricted to these companies.

"The utilities believe open and above-board exploitation of the economic facts of the industry is sound policy for now and the future. They are content to submit their case to their customers, believing that to be the road to just treatment and freedom from unwarranted burdens that would prevent adequate service and forestall the great development program which must be carried out to meet the State's needs."

PIE SUPPER

There will be a pie supper at the Upper Spencer schoolhouse Saturday night, October 25th, for the benefit of the Orphan's Home. The public is cordially invited.

BLACK PLANS MOVE TO HELP BUSINESS

A policy looking to the changing of train schedules on railroads in Kentucky so as to divert business of merchants and people of Eastern Kentucky from points outside of the State to Louisville, Lexington, Ashland and other Kentucky towns, was announced by Governor James D. Black in a speech to the people of Floyd county. Governor Black's plan looks to an improvement in train schedules and facilities for travel, so that Kentucky merchants and shoppers may visit Kentucky cities without so much loss of time as is now necessary and may at least have the same advantages in train schedules they now have for visiting Cincinnati, Huntington, Knoxville and other points outside the State.

"I propose to put on foot a movement to obtain co-operation of railroads running through Kentucky to fix their train schedules so as to make it feasible for people from all parts of the State, and, especially of the Eastern mountains, to transact their business with their fellow-Kentuckians," the Governor said, "so that, instead of going out of the State they can go to the metropolis of Louisville, Lexington or Winchester."

Business of this section of Kentucky, he said, goes to Cincinnati Merchants, because of the length of time it takes to make a trip to Louisville or Lexington. Three days are required for a person to go from one of the Eastern mountain towns to Louisville and return, allowing only a limited time for shopping. "Let's work together, let commerce, farming, schools, coal, manufacturing and all interests of the State each co-operate with the other," he said. "It now takes too long to go to these cities, but I believe the people of the Cumberland River, the Big Sandy and the Kentucky River districts want to co-operate with the rest of the State and want to trade with fellow-Kentuckians."

in Louisville, he cited instances of crimes committed whose mysteries remain unsolved by the Republican police department. He scored naming of candidates on the Republican ticket by a machine, instead of by primary election, saying:

"It's a party of bosses; I do not refer to the rank and file, but to those bosses who get together and want to control offices of the State, denying members of their party the right to name a ticket for whom they want to vote."

The Governor referred to A. T. Hirt as the dominating boss of the Republican party and scored the methods of Searcy and other Republican leaders.

ARE YOU? GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer. "Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality." The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said: "Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertiser? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."
